

Exciting Teaching Opportunities on the Chesapeake Bay!

Echo Hill Outdoor School is a residential experiential education school located in Worton, Maryland on the Eastern Shore of the Chesapeake Bay. As a community of educators we take responsibility to create a climate of freedom and growth through sharing a safe, fun, educational experience in the outdoors. The School provides a general outdoor education program to students from grades three through eight on a weekly basis. Additional programming is offered to younger children, high school and college students, and adult groups. The program focuses on three major curriculum areas: (1) science and watershed ecology; (2) individual and group development (adventure education); and (3) history and the human environment.

Responsibilities:

Teach or assist with a variety of field classes, supervise residential life of student groups, debrief weekly programs, assist with special events.

Requirements:

Residential positions are available for individuals with initiative, motivation, energy, creativity, and commitment. Interest in education, recreation, environmental education, adventure learning, psychology, natural sciences, marine biology, or other related fields. Experience working with and relating well to individuals of all ages is preferred.

Teacher or Intern Opportunities Available

To apply:

Send resume and references to:

Betsy Zelter McCown
Associate Director
Sara Vogel
Internship Coordinator

Echo Hill Outdoor School
13655 Bloomingneck Road
Worton, MD 21678
E-mail: jobs@ehos.org
Website: www.ehos.org